

In December, 2010 there was another "racial incident" in Sanford, Florida. An African-American homeless man named Sherman Ware was attacked without provocation by Justin Collison, the drunken son of a Sanford police lieutenant... and it was all caught on video.

Sherman Ware went to the hospital with a concussion and a broken nose, but the Sanford Police initially swept it under the rug, and the NAACP wasn't interested. But a young couple were outraged, and started a "Justice for Sherman Ware" campaign. Justin Collison was eventually convicted of misdemeanor battery.

And who was that young couple, crusading for justice for the African-American victim? It was none other than George & Shellie Zimmerman.

I'll bet you didn't know that, did you?

Zimmerman was a serial do-gooder. In addition to being a neighborhood watch volunteer, he was also a volunteer mentor/tutor of African-American children.

I'll bet you didn't know that, either, did you?

The reason you don't know such things is that NBC, CNN, etc. were too busy lying about Zimmerman, doctoring the recording & transcript of his call to the police, and smearing him as a racist, to inflame racial tensions.

Trayvon Martin (who used the Twitter handle "NO_LIMITS_NIGGA") caused his own death when he viciously attacked a stranger who he didn't know was armed.

Martin was in the neighborhood because he was staying with his father at his father's girlfriend's house, while he was on a ten-day suspension from high school (his third suspension of the year), after being caught by school officials with stolen jewelry and traces of drugs. Martin (5'11" or 6'0") apparently didn't like the way that "creepy-ass cracker" had been looking at him a few minutes earlier, so he surprised Zimmerman (5'7"), threatened his life, decked him, broke his nose, and repeatedly smashed his head against a sidewalk, as Zimmerman yelled for help. No one came to Zimmerman's assistance, so he finally drew his concealed handgun, and shot his assailant once in the chest.

Unsurprisingly, Trayvon Martin was the product of a broken home. The real cause of this tragedy is Trayvon Martin's lack of a Christian upbringing, lack of an intact family, lack of responsible parents, and lack of a Christian education.

Here is some additional information & references:

<http://tinyurl.com/zimhist>

In December, 2010 there was another "racial incident" in Sanford, Florida. An African-American homeless man named Sherman Ware was attacked without provocation by Justin Collison, the drunken son of a Sanford police lieutenant... and it was all caught on video.

Sherman Ware went to the hospital with a concussion and a broken nose, but the Sanford Police initially swept it under the rug, and the NAACP wasn't interested. But a young couple were outraged, and started a "Justice for Sherman Ware" campaign. Justin Collison was eventually convicted of misdemeanor battery.

And who was that young couple, crusading for justice for the African-American victim? It was none other than George & Shellie Zimmerman.

I'll bet you didn't know that, did you?

Zimmerman was a serial do-gooder. In addition to being a neighborhood watch volunteer, he was also a volunteer mentor/tutor of African-American children.

I'll bet you didn't know that, either, did you?

The reason you don't know such things is that NBC, CNN, etc. were too busy lying about Zimmerman, doctoring the recording & transcript of his call to the police, and smearing him as a racist, to inflame racial tensions.

Trayvon Martin (who used the Twitter handle "NO_LIMITS_NIGGA") caused his own death when he viciously attacked a stranger who he didn't know was armed.

Martin was in the neighborhood because he was staying with his father at his father's girlfriend's house, while he was on a ten-day suspension from high school (his third suspension of the year), after being caught by school officials with stolen jewelry and traces of drugs. Martin (5'11" or 6'0") apparently didn't like the way that "creepy-ass cracker" had been looking at him a few minutes earlier, so he surprised Zimmerman (5'7"), threatened his life, decked him, broke his nose, and repeatedly smashed his head against a sidewalk, as Zimmerman yelled for help. No one came to Zimmerman's assistance, so he finally drew his concealed handgun, and shot his assailant once in the chest.

Unsurprisingly, Trayvon Martin was the product of a broken home. The real cause of this tragedy is Trayvon Martin's lack of a Christian upbringing, lack of an intact family, lack of responsible parents, and lack of a Christian education.

Here is some additional information & references:

<http://tinyurl.com/zimhist>